WHAT'S ON

SOLAR PV for ST ANNE'S?

In order to offset some of the large increase in cost of electricity, parishioners are in the process of seeking to install solar PV panels and a storage battery. Planning permission for such an installation on a Grade 2* listed building is not straightforward but informal discussions with Historic England, under way since January, give grounds for optimism. An HE rep visited in August. His observations are:

"The proposals to install solar PV panels on the roof of the Church will result in harm to the significance of the building. However, we are conscious that the proposals are part of a response to real concerns about the impact of climate change, and link into the Church of England's call to be net-zero by 2030. Fundamentally the task for the church will be to demonstrate that the benefits of the proposals outweigh the harm that they will cause. With this in mind, further work is needed to supplement the current information provided, to allow for a complete understanding of the impact of the works to its significance, and to provide a clear and convincing justification.

We would, however, commend the success of previous projects to improve the viability and energy efficiency of the church, which have been carried out in a sensitive and considered manner. The current proposals form part of this overall holistic plan, and the church has already begun to put together a robust evidence base to support them."

Structural engineer's calculations and drawings are now in progress.

Kent Catchment Flood Risk Management Scheme: To inform design proposals, a study is being carried out in Burnside, Staveley and Ings to investigate present river-wall construction by contractor VolkerStevin. This will help understand where flood defences could be located, and which walls could be re-used, modified or replaced if necessary. You may notice/have noticed contractors working, taking core samples etc.

Application to LDNPA to divert a section of footpath away from the riverside in Ings. We would appreciate your views on this proposal and invite you to a site visit at 2pm on Thursday 20th October. We will meet in the Watermill Inn car park to look at the existing path and the proposed options for its diversion.
